INTRODUCTION

TRAVIS MORISSE

Welcome to Fort Hays State University's Block and Bridle Club. Being the largest organization on campus, about 100 members, the club never grew tired of their busy and motivating schedule. As you turn these pages, join FHSU Block and Bridle in their exciting and active year.

TRAVIS MORISSE

Fort Hays State University Block & Bridle Club

600 Park Street
Hays, Kansas 67601-4099

January 14, 1994

The Block and Bridle is a campus wide service organization. It presently consists of ninety-nine members and of these, thirty percent are non-agricultural majors (HHP, Elementary Education, Nursing, Communications, Industrial Education, Science, etc.). The executive officers are President - Melanie Wendling, a junior majoring in Agribusiness; Vice-President - Anita Sakala, a senior majoring in Animal Science; Secretary - Deb Carpenter, a senior majoring in Animal Science; and Treasurer - Robyn Carey, a junior majoring in Business Communications.

During the fall semester, the club co-sponsors the university-wide Welcome Back Picnic in the Quad. The club organizes this event over the summer and subsequently sets up, serves, and cleans up for the meal. Next we host an FFA Dairy Judging Contest and in October we host a Livestock Judging Contest for junior colleges. We use these contests to develop organizational skills. The club also helps raise funds for the University by having a team participate in the annual endowment telethon each fall. This year the club received the Student Organization Award from the Endowment Association based on a combination of dollars raised and participation.

These activities are followed by the regional and national meetings. These typically occur over the last of the fall semester and at the first of the spring semester. The regional meeting was held in Manhattan, Kansas, in October with twenty FHSU B&B members attending the three day event. This year's national meeting will be held in Houston, Texas, in March. The meetings allow members to learn more about agriculture industry programs, to obtain ideas from other clubs, and to meet new people and make new friends.

We finish out the Spring semester with the FFA Livestock Judging Contest and the Little International. The Little International is a livestock fitting and showing contest. Everyone on campus is invited to participate. Over the last few years students and faculty from the University of Missouri-Columbia and North Dakota State University have been guests at our Little International. Following the fitting and showing event, the annual Awards Banquet is held with usually 150-200 members, parents, friends, and alumni attending.

The Block and Bridle Club, in addition to being a service-type organization for the University, also devotes efforts to fund-raising activities. The club sells sausage and hamburger, cooks at various functions and solicits funds for various events. This year the club volunteered as ushers and helped prepare stalls for the MUAB Horse Show. Also, as a way of helping promote FHSU, numerous club members worked Fort Hays State University's booth at the State Fair in September.

In summary, the Block and Bridle Club allows students to be of service to the University (picnics, telethons, etc.), high school and junior college students (judging contests), and themselves (organizational skills, decision making skills, communication skills, leadership skills, etc.).

Serving Agriculture

*B*lock and Bridle was an organization dedicated to service by students who were interested in agriculture.

Robyn Carey, B and B treasurer, said the organization had approximately 100 members.

Mike Gould, national B and B president and local sponsor, said, "Almost all of the members have close ties to agriculture, but about 30 percent of the members are not agriculture majors."

Throughout the year, B and B did a number of service activities including: the campus-wide Welcome Back Picnic, Livestock Judging contests for both high school and junior colleges, the Fort Hays State Booth at the State Fair and the Endowment Telethon.

Last year B and B won the Endowment Association's "Outstanding Organization Award" by donating approximately 120 hours to the telethon.

Stacy Barth, Ashland senior, said she joined B and B because "I was really active in 4-H, and I really enjoyed it and I missed it. This was an opportunity to do what I've always done. I enjoy the atmosphere."

Marc Enyart, Montezuma senior, said, "For the past three summers I've helped enroll incoming freshmen in agriculture, and I knew quite a few people in the organization. So, I joined as a sophomore."

Gould said B and B "is one of the largest organizations on campus, and the Block and Bridle members are a group of hard working students who get things done."

Let's eat. Block and Bridle serves sandwiches to university students during the Welcome Back Picnic as one of their service projects for the year.

Head 'em out. Members of Block and Bridle load up to go to the Block and Bridle National convention.

The Block and Bridle Emblem is significant to club members. It represents the principles on which this club is built. Character, sincerity, and a moral life are asked of members when they join and are depicted in the straight perpendicular of the "B". The distinct curves of the "B" are symbolic of the social pleasure, mental energy and determination of members.

The meat block represents the material aspects of our life. The bridle stands for the behavior of Block and Bridle members, the control over ourselves that we try to maintain, the mannerisms and respect we show toward others, and the way which we treat animals.

MINUTES & BUDGET

The November 10, meeting of Block and Bridle was called to order with 31 members and 3 advisors present. The minutes were approved as read and Robyn gave a treasurers report of $767.38 on-campus & $975.00 off-campus.

The National Block and Bridle Convention will be March 3-6 in Texas. The club will spend $1500 to help with the expenses but each member will be responsible for $150-200. Doc also reminded everyone that they need to stay active in the club.

Melanie asked if anyone was interested in ordering a coat with the block and bridle emblem and name embroidered on the front. The cost of the coat is $68.00 and comes in three sizes. If interested contact Melanie.

Bfooke talked about the Christmas Party which is December 4, at the VFW Hall in Victoria. Names were taken to help at the door the night of the dance. Tickets will be $3.00 per person.

Names were taken to help with Monday nights Telethon. Seven names were taken.

Anita reminded everyone that the DTA Quiz Bowl is December 1 at 6:30. Everyone is invited to watch.

Dustin said that there is one seat open on the SGA senate board.

The meeting was then adjourned.

The Block and Bridle organization makes every effort to raise additional funding at any opportunity that is presented to them. MUAB and many other university organizations approach the Block and Bridle Club with money raising opportunities, because B & B has a good reputation of being willing to help and get the job done. For example, in order for the Lippizzaen Horse Show to perform on campus last year, club members prepared stalls for the horses (and clean up after their departure.)

Regular fund raising activities include the following...

- A. Sell fresh pork sausage and hamburger
- B. Prepare and serve food for various events on and off campus
- C. Students pay annual dues and budgetary shortfalls are made up with personal contributions
- D. The club receives support from alumni and local businesses for specific activities

The first activity of the fall semester that the club performs on campus is to assist MUAB with the university wide Welcome Back Picnic. Block and Bridle sets up, serves, and cleans-up after the event.

To help promote Fort Hays State University at the Kansas State Fair the club works at the university's promotion booth. Block and Bridle works several nights at the Endowment Telethon Scholarship Drive to help raise money for scholarships. In support of the MUAB Lippizzaen Horse Show the club volunteered as ticket takers and ushers.

Block and Bridle sponsors two district FFA contests, one for dairy judging and one for livestock judging. A separate livestock judging contest for junior colleges is also sponsored.

The biggest organized event is the Little International Fitting and Showing Contest in the which the entire campus is invited to participate.

An additional activity that serves to educate the youth of the community is Ag Awareness Day, which gives children the opportunity to learn about animals and the importance of agriculture.

The money received from SGA will help to support many club activities. Proposed use of funds includes making it possible for club members to attend the regional and national Block and Bridle meetings, and the American Society of Animal Science meeting.

Allocated funds would also be used to bring in judges for the three club sponsored judging contests, and the Little International. Various equipment and supplies for the "Little I" would also be supported through allocations funding.

The livestock judging team is an educational program sponsored by Block and Bridle that SGA funds would support.

To facilitate the wide range of activities of the club, various office supplies are necessary. Stationary and postage are used to maintain contact with our numerous alumni and various supporters. Allocated funds would also be used to provide photographs for the nationally ranked scrapbook.

Allocation of money to the Block and Bridle Club can have direct and indirect effects on other students of FHSU. SGA allocations help make it possible for many students to be involved with Block and Bridle which makes a strong and active club. As a result, Block and Bridle is involved with several activities that are beneficial to other students on campus. For example, the club sets-up and serves the meal for the Fall Welcome Back Picnic in the Quad, raises university-wide scholarship funds by helping with the Endowment Telethon, assists with special events on campus such as the Lipizzaner Horse Show by preparing horse stalls and serving as ushers and ticket takers at the show. In addition, all university students can participate in the Little International Fitting and Showing Contest which students have found to be fun and educational.

The indirect benefits of these funds come from the organizational and leadership skills Block and Bridle members learn and use in other campus organizations. Block and Bridle has an excellent reputation throughout the state and for many people this is their only contact or knowledge of Fort Hays State University. Club members also work to promote the university by working at FHSU's promotional booth at the State Fair. This positive image benefits the entire university.

MUAB sponsors family picnic

The Fort Hays State Memorial Union Activities Board is a student run, volunteer organization in charge of entertainment for the university.

One of this year's first MUAB sponsored activities will be the ninth annual FHSU Family Picnic Monday evening, today, in the quad area east of the Memorial Union.

The picnic to welcome the new students and welcome back those returning to campus will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. and is also open to the Hays community. The evening will consist of food, entertainment and a chance for students to learn more about the university's clubs, organizations and campus activities.

"MUAB's purpose is to provide campus-wide entertainment, but it's a lot more than that. It is the only campus-wide entertainment group bringing in programming—it has a pretty big chore. We cover everything from folk music to concerts to outdoor events," I. B. Dent, director of student activities, said.

The picnic's evening of entertainment will consist of the musical group Fabulous Destinations performing a selection of classic rock songs; a juggler entertaining throughout the quad area; and a short program introducing FHSU President Edward Hammond and head football coach Bob Cortese with the cheerleaders on hand to booster the crowd's morale.

The FHSU Student Government Association will sponsor an organization fair on the quad simultaneously with the picnic.

Many of the university's organizations will be represented with information on their group and how interested students can become involved with them.

"The picnic is usually very well attended. SGA sponsors the organization fair on the quad to show what kind of organizations [the students] can join," Lisa Heath, director of student development, said.

"This is important for the freshmen. It's the only time that you can really do that," Dent said.

The FHSU Block and Bridle club will be in charge of the food tables and serving the food.

All FHSU students with a meal plan eat free and all others may purchase a meal for $1.50.

In keeping with the attendance of previous years, MUAB is expecting around 1500 participants at this year's picnic. Those attending are urged to bring along a blanket or lawn chairs.

ALUMNI ASSOC. TELETHON

"So this is what telephone operators do."

Anually the Fort Hays State University Endowment Association sponsors a telethon to raise funds for student scholarships. Each club volunteers to call alumni and supporters of the university to ask for pledges. This year our club received the Student Organization Award from Endowment based on dollars raised and participation.

From the look on Debra's face, she must have gotten a $1,000 pledge.

Stallions to perform in Gross Memorial

Amy Krob
Entertainment reporter

It isn't often a person has a chance to see a group of performers who have been perfecting their skills for over 400 years.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., Gross Memorial Coliseum will be transformed into a stage for "The Wonderful World of Horses®" starring the Royal Lipizzaner Stallions™.

The breed became almost exclusively the property of nobility and military aristocracy. The Lipizzans were trained for battle, but were evacuated several times during wars for protection of the breed.

Only the most gifted Lipizzaner stallions can be used for the intricate leaps into the air. These maneuvers were once used as battle movements to protect the rider through the power and strength of these horses.

"This is a very unique show. It's the only company of its kind in the country touring," I.B. Dent, director of student activities, said.

"The Wonderful World of Horses®" is on its 24th anniversary tour. In 1970, producer Gary Lashinsky created "The Wonderful World of Horses®," starring the world famous Royal Lipizzaner Stallions™ as a new family arena attraction.

Over the years, 23 million people throughout North and South America have seen this internationally acclaimed show.

The motion picture, "The Miracle of the White Stallions," depicting Gen. George Patton's involvement in saving the breed, did much to publicize and create the mystique of the Lipizzans. Horses and riders were brought from Europe to perform in this unique family oriented arena attraction.

In its presentation of Lipizzans, Lashinsky's show emulates the Spanish Riding School of Vienna, Austria, the centuries-old training center considered the "Harvard" of the equestrian world. It also maintains a traditional performance similar in many ways to what you would see at the Spanish Riding School.

Although the Lipizzans star in the presentation, also included are the ancestral forefathers of the Lipizzan, the Spanish Andalusian and the Arabian horses.

Not only will Andalusians be shown in saddle, but also in a unique presentation where the rider performs all the maneuvers of the Grand Prix Olympic level dressage while walking behind the horse and guiding him through his paces.

This is especially unique, for it is not normally seen in North America.

The conclusion of the performance is the traditional Grand Quadrille, or military drill. It features six to eight Lipizzaner stallions with their riders performing an intricate routine, exhibiting maneuvers through the highest level of dressage.

Courtesy photo

"The Wonderful World of Horses®" starring the Royal Lipizzaner Stallions™ will perform Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Gross Memorial Coliseum.

"They [the horses] were here about seven or eight years ago. The horses are just huge, and they're expensive to move around," Dent said.

This is a Memorial Union Activities Board sponsored activity. Dent said the Block and Bridle club will be doing as much work as MUAB by providing ushers and housing horses.

Tickets for the show are $11.50 for adults; Fort Hays State students, children under 12 and seniors 60 plus are $9.50.

There are also a limited number of VIP tickets available for $15.50.

Dent said these tickets will be for two rows of chairs right around the arena.

Tickets are available at the student service center, Memorial Union and Dillons stores, 27th & Hall and 1902 Vine St.

Livestock show today

Sundi Fairchild
Staff writer

The agriculture department and the Block and Bridle Club will be hosting a livestock show today at the Fort Hays State Pavillion, the indoor arena, one mile north of I-70 on the 183 bypass. The contest will start at 8 a.m.

"There will be sixteen schools, 136 contestants and 20 teams at the show," Garry Brower, associate professor of agriculture and agriculture department sponsor, said.

A team is made up of five team members. There are two teams per school. Schools are here from Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas.

There will be twelve different sections of judging, including market steers, market hogs, breeding ewes, market lambs and beef bulls.

"Individual awards will be given in each section for species and oral reasons given for the top five places," Brower said.

The top three teams will receive plaques and the top five overall team winners will receive awards.

"Around noon, we will try to get everybody to Gross Memorial Coliseum for oral reasons to be given," Brower said. Awards will be given at 6:30 p.m. at a banquet in Victoria.

"Custom-made plaques will be given out for the awards. Our own team members will not be receiving plaques as common courtesy," Brower said.

Sandra Johnson, assistant professor of agriculture, Kevin Huser, meats judging team coach and swine and sheep herdsman, and Mike Gould, associate professor of agriculture are sponsors for the Block and Bridle Club.

Shhh be quiet I'm concentrating.

Dr. Brower and Melanie assign judges to group leaders.

A coach assures that he is registered.

Just girl talk.

Mitch, Melanie, Billie, and Eric look like they are ready to get started.

High school students arrive at the crack of dawn.

Billie and the boys are on a mission.

Reasons are the most difficult part for some judges.

The judges evaluate the swine.

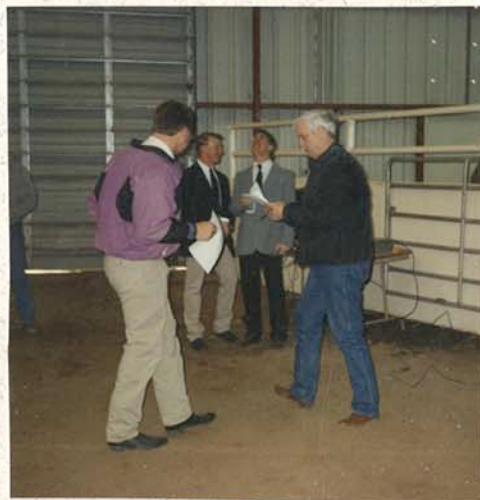

Scott leads the group while Carol collects cards.

Students give reasons on the sheep class.

No cheating!

Kevin and Dr. Brower compare results.

Stephanie keeps the pigs moving.

Judgers take instructions from a group leader.

MEETINGS

LOCAL MEETINGS

Melanie prepares for the meeting.

Meetings were held on Wednesday nights at 7:30 P.M. in the Union. After the meetings everyone stuck around to talk. Members found Block & Bridle to be more fun than expected. Several people of all majors join the club because of its friendly reputation.

The meeting comes to order.

Dr. Mike Gould, senior advisor, welcomes old and new members and explains the significance of the Block & Bridle organization.

Melanie Wendling presides over the meeting while the vice-president, Anita Sakala, relaxes.

REGIONAL MEETING

Meeting goers find their rooms in Manhattan.

Once at Regionals, members look through their packets.

Getting ready for Farm Olympics.

The guys practice their hay stacking skills.

Somebody kicked the bucket.

For recreation, students participated in Farm Olympics just for fun and maybe even some exercise.

Guest speakers at Regional Meeting addressed current agricultural issues.

Eric is fascinated by new technology.

NATIONAL MEETING

Fifteen people and all that luggage?

Dustin holds up the bus.

Carol doesn't look too worried about the van ride.

Fifteen members represented FHSU Block & Bridle at the National Meetings.

During the meeting, officers for the next year were elected.

We ate lunch at the McFaddin Mercantile.

Robyn enjoys the beautiful weather in Texas.

Overcoming the obstacle.

While on tour, members visited the King Ranch.

Historical pictures are displayed on the USS Lexington.

Howdy!!

Del gets ready for a feast.

Sunset on the King Ranch.

Only in Texas would you find a stuffed longhorn.

Members get a chance to meet new people from other states.

Brahmas on the J.D. Hudgins Ranch.

We need sleep.

On the road again.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Robyn and Chris ring in the holidays.

Chit-chatting.

Rock-n-roll all night Jim and Debra.

Yeah, we know Santa personally.

Isn't it past your bedtime Ross?

Jerry and Anita dance the night away.

Eric has a new dance move.

Alumni attend the Christmas party too.

Every year the club has a Christmas party and dance. Alumni and guests are invited. It's a great time for everyone.

Emblem

The Block and Bridle Emblem is significant to club members. It represents the principles on which this club is built. Character, sincerity, and a moral life are asked of members when they join and are depicted in the straight perpendicular of the "B". The distinct curves of the "B" are symbolic of the social pleasure, mental energy and determination of members.

The meat block represents the material aspects of our life. The bridle stands for the behavior of Block and Bridle members, the control over ourselves that we try to maintain, the mannerisms and respect we show toward others, and the way which we treat animals.

The 1994 Livestock Judging Team has done very well over the past year. In January, the team started out in Pheonix finishing 3rd as a team in Beef, and Mitch Rohr was 12th High Individual in Beef. After Pheonix, the team traveled to Denver and finished 5th in placings and 13th overall in the contest. In the Carload Contest at the National Western, the team finished 8th overall and Jon Herbel was 9th High Individual overall. At the Southwestern Livestock Exposition at Ft. Worth, Stephanie Stielow finished 14th overall and was 4th in sheep. Stephanie also finished 2nd in horses last month in Houston. The team is traveling to Wilburton, Ok next week to compete in the NACTA contest. Overall the team has competed very well and is looking forward to a very successful year.

NAMA

(National Ag Marketing Association)

NAMA is an organization of professionals and students involved in agriculture, marketing, sales, journalism and other related areas. This past school year FHSU students elected to start a NAMA chapter on campus. Most of the year was spent on a marketing project in which students developed a marketing plan for a new hypothetical animal health product. Several chapter members presented this plan to members of the Great Plains Chapter at their professional NAMA meeting in Wichita. A few students have participated in a mentor program. This involves the student spending a day with a professional in their field of interest. The club has gotten off to a good start and plans to enter the marketing presentation in the National competition at the National Convention next year.

The club has proven to be beneficial to students who are looking for employment as it has given them opportunities to make personal contacts with professionals in the field of agriculture.

President - Greg Carey
Vice President - Clay Scott
Secretary - Darla Eiseman
Treasure - Todd Brummer
Advisor - Dr. Brent Spaulding

Delta Tau Alpha

The nationally recognized honor society of Delta Tau Alpha was busy this past year hosting the National Convention. The local chapter hosted 13 schools across the nation. Dustin Walker, a current senior was elected as Mid-West Vice-President. This marked the first time a Hays student has held a national office in more than 10 years - Congratulations Dustin.

The chapter has been especially busy the past year. They entered a float in the homecoming parade, they telephoned at the fall Alumni Association Telethon to raise university and departmental scholarship monies, and a couple of students volunteered more than one night. Dustin worked an afternoon at the FHSU Recruitment Booth at the Kansas State Fair. The chapter participated in the Heart Walk, they adopted a mile of road just south of Hays on Highway and have additional plans for the remainder of the year and 1994-95.

The current officers are:

President - Dustin Walker (Wright)
Vice President - Calvin Hett (Peabody)
Secretary - Clay Scott (Johnson)
Treasurer - Greg Carey (Princeton)
Advisor - Dr. Jean Gleichsner

Hays, Kansas 67601-4099

March 14, 1994

To the parents of:
Lisa Pachta
Rt. 1 Box 42
Belleville, KS 66935

We would like to invite you to join us for the twenty-first Annual Little International Fitting and Showing Contest. The contest will be held the 9th of April at the Livestock Pavilion starting at 9:00 a.m. The banquet will be at 6:00 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Hays, immediately followed by a dance at the Silver Star in Schoenchen. To order banquet tickets, fill out the order sheet on the following page.

This year's Block & Bridle officers are: President, Melanie Wendling; Vice-Presidents, Anita Sakala (fall), Linn Kleweno (spring); Secretary, Debra Carpenter; Treasurer, Robyn Carey; Historian, Lisa Pachta; Publicity, Eric Dexter, Stacy Barth; JUCO Chairman, Mike Eckroat; Dairy Chairman, Aaron Lewis; Little "I" Chairman, Eric Dexter.

The club started the year with the Annual Back to School Picnic, which is always a success. The next events of the semester were the FFA Dairy and JUCO Livestock Judging Contests. This year the club helped prepare stalls and take tickets for the Lipizzaner Stallion Horse Show. In October, twenty-one students attended the Regional Block & Bridle Meeting in Manhattan. The club was awarded the Student Organization Award from the Endowment Association Telethon; the award was based upon a combination of participation and dollars raised. To end the semester, B & B held a Christmas dance in Victoria.

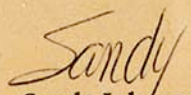

The members of the 1993 Judging Team were Dustin Gilliland, Randy Huser, Noel Ketzner, Ross Stejskal, Shannon Stevens, and Doug Wright. This team started out in Phoenix in January, and competed in eight contests. The 1994 team members are Eric Dexter, David Dickerson, Jon Herbel, Mitch Rohr, Stephanie Stielow, and Melanie Wendling. The current team has competed at Phoenix, Denver, Fort Worth, and Houston, and have been very competitive.

As you can tell we have had a very busy fall semester. The first week of March a lively crew attended the National Block & Bridle meeting in Houston, which included tours of the King Ranch and Mexico. The club is currently selling sausage and hamburger as a fund raising project. The FFA Livestock Judging Contest and Ag. Awareness Day will be held April 7th and 8th, respectively. To wind up the semester, Little "I", will be held April 9th. We look forward to seeing all of you this year to help us celebrate this event. If you have any questions, feel free to contact the Ag. office at 628-4196. Any donations you wish to make to the club would be greatly appreciated, please send in care of Eric Dexter or Dr. Mike Gould with checks payable to FHSU Block & Bridle. Hope to see you at Little "I".

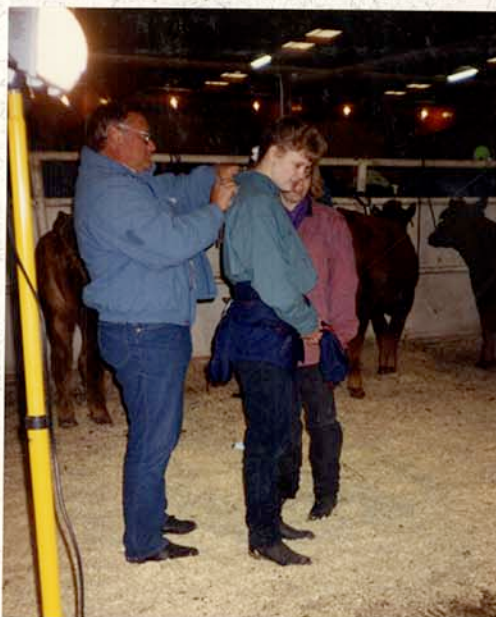

Sincerely,

LITTLE INTERNATIONAL FITTING AND SHOWING CONTEST

Daddy's little girl.

Eric Dexter, Little I Chairman, mans the main table.

It takes an early bird to get the animals fit and groomed for the show.

Swine was one of the many species that Mitch showed.

Make sure you have the right pig.

Are you guys ready for dinner yet?

Parents have a choice of donuts for breakfast.

Ross makes sure his dairy cow is looking its best.

Several people displayed their showing skills in the dairy class.

Members brought their own horses to the show.

Amy DuBois and her blue ribbon beauty.

Kim stands straight and tall as the judge makes his decision.

Huffy makes his cow fluffy.

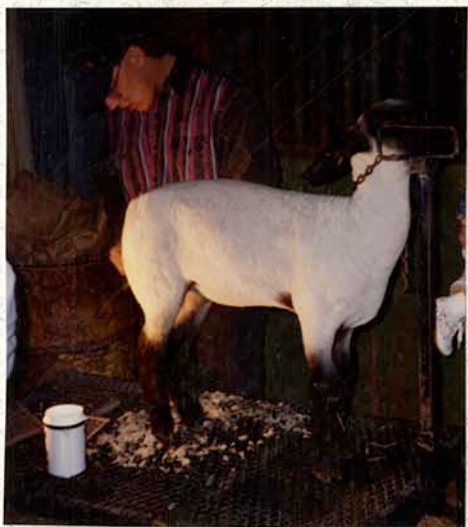

Where's the beef? It's at the Little I.

I said stop, but this cow has a mind of its own.

Billie makes some last minute clips on her sheep.

Sheldon pays attention to detail.

The sheep show.

Robyn, Dr. Johnson, and Dr. Gould discuss the banquet schedule.

MISCELLANEOUS

DELTA TAU ALPHA QUIZ BOWL

The Block & Bridle team consisting of Noel, Del, and Dustin show their intelligence at the DTA Quiz Bowl.

Delt Tau Alpha, the agricultural honor society, sponsor a quiz bowl annually to promote agricultural awareness. Teams from various Ag organizations participate.

Contestants are under the clock to answer questions correctly.

Things that make you say "Hmmm".

THE END

END OF THE YEAR COOK-OUT

Tailgating it!

Everybody dig in.

The master chefs.

Hey cowboy, good hamburger?

Pull up a bucket.

Dustin serves Dustin.

The End of the Year Picnic provides one last time for members to socialize before they have to hit the books for finals.

Fort Hays State University's Block and Bridle would like to thank all its supporters for making this year a success. A special thanks to all those who donated their time and efforts to the production of this scrapbook. Look out 1994-95.
